

Curriculum Vitae

Consultant Director of Cardiovascular Surgery Department and Head of Surgical Department , Tainan Municipal An-Nan Hospital , China Medical University

Dr Jimmy Wei-Hwa Tan graduated from National Taiwan University in 2002 and completed his surgical resident training including cardiovascular subspecialty training in 2007 at National Taiwan University Hospital. Besides his skill learning in Adult and Congenital cardiovascular surgery , he is one of the very first surgeon who started endovascular treatment of complex PAD and complex aortic disease. He visited Texas Heart Institute St Luke's Medical Hospital in 2008 and learnt thoracoabdominal surgical skill from Dr Joseph Coselli and Endovascular skill from Dr Neil Strickman.

Dr Jimmy Tan started his first endovascular case since 2008 and has been performing more than 1500 endovascular procedure per year , focusing in dialysis access , aortic disease , carotid artery stenosis disease, acute and chronic venous occlusive disease and also peripheral artery occlusive disease. He ever received research paper awards from Taiwan Vascular Surgery Society in 2009 ,2010 and 2012 regarding his research in Transposed arteriovenous fistula, Branched Chimney TEVAR in ruptured Aneurysm, Salvage endovascular treatment of Femoropopliteal Instent restenosis and Balloon-assisted Maturation of immature arteriovenous fistula. He has been international Faculty of LINC –Asia Pacific since 2010 and also LINC-Leipzig in 2014. He organized the first Taiwan Live Demo Symposium –Talent focusing in the aortic and peripheral intervention in 2012 with Dr Po-Jen Ko as Interventional vascular surgeon.

In his clinical practice, he serves as Chief of Cardiovascular Surgery Department and also Director of Surgical Department in Tainan Municipal An- Nan Hospital where his passion is in endovascular intervention of complex aortic disease and peripheral artery occlusive disease. Dr Jimmy Tan is also regional proctor and case demonstrator and travels extensively to Mainland China to teach and proctor complex aortic stenting, peripheral vascular interventions and dialysis access surgery. Dr Jimmy Tan has been the invited faculty of CEC (China Endovascular Congress), SEC (South China Endovascular Conference), Endovascology and also SPEAC meeting in Mainland China since 2012.